Traineeship open to people with intellectual disabilities

If you are a person with intellectual disabilities, you can come to Inclusion Europe to learn about the work we do.

This is called a traineeship.

Traineeship means a person gets to work and learn at Inclusion Europe for six months.

This person is called a trainee.

The trainee gets to know about the work we do.

For example:

- Learn about self-advocates all around Europe.
- Learn about what the European Union does for people with disabilities.
- Learn how to create easy-to-read documents.
- Learn about topics that are important to Inclusion Europe.

The traineeship lasts 6 months maximum.

The trainee gets paid a salary based on Belgian law about traineeships.

The traineeship is called
Ulla Topi traineeship in inclusive policy-making.

Ulla Topi is a Finnish self-advocate and activist.

Ulla Topi was the first President of the European Platform of Self-Advocates.

Elected in 2001, she said:

“We want to be treated as independent human beings.
We want people to take our hopes and needs seriously.
We want our rights.”

We named the traineeship after Ulla Topi to honor her work.

To take part in the traineeship:

- You need to be able to work in Belgium (based on Belgian law).
- You need to be able to stay in Brussels during the traineeship.
- You need to speak English.

We know these conditions can be a big barrier to many people.

We are working to find more money to provide better support, so that taking part in the traineeships would be easier.

Working hours can be arranged depending on what suits both you and Inclusion Europe.

If you are interested in taking part in the traineeship, please send an email to jobs@inclusion.eu.

In the email:

- Tell us your name.
- Tell us about your work and school experience.
- Tell us why you would like to take part in the traineeship.
- Tell us what arrangements for the traineeship would work for you.
(How many hours a week, etc.)

Inclusion Europe is an organization that represents people with intellectual disabilities and their families.

We advocate for full rights and inclusion.
